Be on Lookout for Road Fund Theft; Mystic, Conn.

Your editor would be derelict in his public duty if he failed to remind you that Transport Secretary Volpe is attempting to push through Congress a plan to raid the U.S. Highway Trust Fund for money to be diverted to mass transit projects in the big cities.

However, Washington observers don't think much of the proposal's chance for passage in the current session. Such aid to mass transit as the federal government has produced thus far has come from general revenue. It's getting burdensome, the money comes hard—so the Transport Department would like to steal a few billions from the Highway Trust Fund.

"Steal" is the correct word. The extra tax on gasoline you pay to the federal government is placed in the Highway Trust Fund under Congress' solemn promise to spend it on highways alone, specifically on the Interstate system.

To take this extra tax for roads and divert it to the building of subways and suburban rail lines serving the metropolitan centers would destroy the last shred of confidence that the people have in their federal government.

Such diversion has been known among the state governments, but not with the "federalists"—certainly never when it meant misusing a trust fund.

Gasoline taxes are already at record levels, and if folks in the scattered rural sections are to be denied maximum benefits so city dwellers may get non-road projects it will mean the gate is closed to further exploration of the gasoline tax field by the political adventurers who live on the Potomac.

Keep your eye on this attempted steal every time Congress meets. It's your "extra" gasoline tax money, so it's your job to watch it—protesting to Congressman and Senators any time a diversion bill is proposed.

Last week the Associated Press distributed a picture showing a cat with splints on both front legs. The caption said the cat sustained one broken leg, then fell off a bed and broke the other leg. I noted that this was supposed to have occurred in Mystic, Conn.—a place name that rang a bell in this writer's excellent memory.

Mystic, Conn., was the dateline for many a fanciful event reported on the wires when your editor was a boy and extending into his early manhood. Was it a two-headed calf, a man with five wives, or a goose that talked to people—the dateline would be Mystic, Conn.

After about 30 years the Mystic, Conn., wire correspondent died—and all the galaxy of strange items died with him.

Now Mystic, Conn., is back in the news. Can it be that the late lamented correspondent has a grandson who's turned to journalism?

Of course there is the picture for proof of the crippled cat.

But with Mystic, Conn., for a dateline, your editor is deep in doubt.

Inmates Strike at Texarkana

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Between 150 and 200 inmates of the federal prison here Sunday staged a combination hunger and sit-down strike.

Prison officials said the men refused to eat their noon and evening meals.

About 200 inmates met on the prison's recreation ward and drew up a list of grievances for Warden W. M. Connett, who was unavailable for comment Sunday night.

Prison officials said the inmates complained about the manner in which their mail was handled, the medical care at the prison, transfers, the work release program and furloughs.

1,000 Dead in Iran Quake

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — A devastating earthquake crumbled mud brick villages in southern Iran early today and the national radio-television network reported more than 1,000 persons perished.

Unofficial reports from the area 560 miles south of Tehran estimated from 2,000 to 4,000 died.

Gov. Manuchehr Pirooz of Fars Province said after flying over the region that about one-fifth of the houses had collapsed.

The quake, starting at 5:38 a.m.—9:08 p.m. EST Sunday—“is one of the biggest ever to hit Iran,” registering 7 on the Richter scale, a spokesman for the Geophysics Institute at Tehran University said.

A 1968 earthquake with the same reading killed more than 10,000 persons in eastern Iran. But the latest temblor hit an area lightly populated, Pirooz said.

Dust columns rose from the villages of Qeer and Karzin, near the quake center. The surrounding mountains apparently were still sliding, officials reported after viewing the scene from the air.

Reports reaching Tehran indicated most of the victims were women and children caught in their primitive mud brick houses. Many of the men were apparently en route to the fields when the quake struck.

Prime Minister Amir Abbas Hoveyda set up relief headquarters in his office and was reporting hourly to the Shah, a government spokesman said. Prince Mahmoud Reza, who was traveling in southern Iran, was named to supervise operations at the scene.

Medical supplies were rushed by helicopter to the stricken villages. Army engineers from Shiraz were ordered to look after the water supply and open road and radio links between the villages and rescue operation centers at Shiraz, Jahrum and Fitoozabad.

The quake area is 120 miles from Persepolis, where world figures gathered last October to celebrate the 2,500th anniversary of the Persepolis monarchy.

The region is mainly agricultural. After four years of drought, it recently suffered a record snowfall that buried farmers and their cattle in drifts up to 20 feet.

ROSARIO, Argentina (AP) — A burst of machine-gun fire from a passing car today killed Gen. Juan Carlos Sanchez, commander of Argentina's 2nd Army and one of the nation's most powerful military chiefs.

A woman passer-by also was slain by the assassins' bullets and the general's chauffeur was severely wounded.

The woman was hit in the head when a pickup showed Sanchez' limousine and the killers opened fire from a car that sped by.

The 52-year-old Sanchez was struck several times in the attack on a downtown street only three blocks from his office.

An army communiqué said Sanchez was “brutally and cowardly assassinated by terrorist elements, who also shot the chauffeur in the barbarous and cowardly attempt

Johnson Improving

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson has few serious danger signals lingering from last weekend's heart attack and is showing definite signs of improvement, his doctor says.

Dr. John Willis Hurst, the heart specialist flown here to treat the 63-year-old former president after his attack early Friday, said Sunday he felt confident enough in Johnson's condition to return to his home in Atlanta.

Hurst treated Johnson in 1955 when, as a senator from Texas, he was stricken by a nearly fatal heart attack. Hurst diagnosed the latest illness as a myocardial infarction, a closing of the blood vessels into the heart.

Bombers Return to War Over Northern Vietnam

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers returned to the air war over North Vietnam today for the first time in more than four years and hit targets around the big coastal city of Vinh, 145 miles northwest of the demilitarized zone. It was the deepest penetration of North Vietnam ever made by America's biggest warplanes.

Meanwhile, South Vietnam's commander on the northern front said his forces had crushed the spearhead of the 12-day-old Communist offensive across the DMZ and turned the tide of battle.

But there was no letup in the enemy attack north of Saigon and the South Vietnamese command ordered another 20,000 troops into the battle for An Loc, 60 miles north of the Capital.

Official sources said the use of the eight-jet B52s over North Vietnam for the first time since Nov. 27, 1967, was a show of force by President Nixon.

The U.S. Command gave no details of the B52 operations, saying in a communique: “In response to the Communist invasion of South Vietnam through the demilitarized zone, U.S. air and naval operations continue south of, in and north of the DMZ. These operations include naval gunfire, tactical aircraft and B52s throughout the battlefield area.”

The command said it now considers North Vietnam part of the battlefield area.

Other official sources said that because overcast skies for the third day curtailed raids by the smaller fighter-bombers over the North, the high-altitude B52s which fly above the weather and bomb by radar were sent to hit rear bases at Vinh and supply routes leading south along Highway 1 to the DMZ.

When the B52s last flew over North Vietnam in 1966-67, their deepest penetration was the Mu Gia pass region, on the western border about 70 miles above the DMZ.

Radio Hanoi reported that a “huge wave” of U.S. planes began attacking Vinh about 3 a.m. and claimed North Vietnamese gunners shot down two U.S. jet-fighter-bombers.

The U.S. Command announced only one plane loss, an F4 Phantom which it said was shot down while escorting other bombers attacking the Ho Chi Minh trail through Laos. The command said the two crewmen were rescued with minor injuries.

The United States also unleashed more naval power against North Vietnamese positions, but the results were not spectacular. Nine cruisers and destroyers bombarded troops and artillery in the southern half of the DMZ and below it, and enemy shore batteries hit two of the destroyers, the John R. Craig and the Ronan. A Navy spokesman said there were no casualties, but the Craig sustained hull and equipment damage while the Ronan took light shrapnel hits.

Countdown Starts for Moon Mission

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The countdown begins today for the Apollo 16 mission, man's fifth expedition to the surface of the moon.

The launch team starts the countdown clock at 8:30 a.m. EST, aiming for a liftoff of the Saturn 5 rocket Sunday at 12:54 p.m. Early activities include feeding electrical power to the three stages of the rocket.

The clock starts ticking at 104 hours 30 minutes. Several halts are planned to provide launch crews with rest periods and catchup time on any item that might fall behind schedule.

Key events in the countdown include activating batteries, loading the spacecraft's power-producing fuel cells and pumping more than one million gallons of fuel into the rocket's huge tanks.

Astronauts John W. Young, a veteran of four space trips; Charles M. Duke Jr. and Thomas K. Mattingly II planned to spend most of today in spacecraft simulators, rehearsing descent to the lunar surface, liftoff and rendezvous maneuvers.

Young and Duke are to attempt man's first landing in the moon's mountainous highlands. The touchdown point is near the crater Descartes, just southeast of the center of the moon's visible face.

The explorers are to spend a record 73 hours on the surface. During three seven-hour surface excursions they'll drive a moon car to a variety of geological features, seeking clues to the origin of the moon.

A major goal will be a search for evidence that volcanoes once erupted on the moon. Photographic and geochemical evidence indicates that two distinct volcanic events occurred in the Descartes area.

While orbiting alone, Mattingly will conduct extensive photographic and scientific experiments.

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — James F. Byrnes, who quit school at the age of 14 to help support his widowed mother and later became a congressman, a U.S. Supreme Court justice, U.S. secretary of state, and governor of South Carolina, has died after a long illness.

Byrnes, who reportedly had been in a coma for the past few days, died Sunday at his home here. He was 92.

His body will lie in state in the rotunda of the Statehouse Tuesday and Wednesday. The funeral will be held Wednesday at the Trinity Episcopal church.

Even to the end Byrnes remained an opponent of court-ordered school desegregation, saying the U.S. Supreme Court “did not interpret the Constitution. The court amended it.”

It was Byrnes who at 71 ran for governor of South Carolina to push through a state sales tax to finance separate but equal schools for blacks and whites.

He won the election and instituted his tax and his school plan.

Born in the port city of Charleston, Byrnes was a one-time law office messenger boy, newspaper vendor, and odd-job worker who rose step-by-step until he became “assistant president.”

President Franklin D. Roosevelt referred to Byrnes by that title because of the South Carolinian's far-ranging power as head of the Office of War Mobilization during World War II.

Byrnes was once considered as a possible running mate for Roosevelt. But in 1944, fearing that a Southern vice presidential candidate would hurt his chances for re-election, Roosevelt made a last-minute choice of Sen. Harry S. Truman of Missouri for the Democratic ticket.

U.S. Building Up Air Powder in South Asia

By MICHAEL PUTZEL, Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States appears to be preparing substantial new buildups of its air and sea power in Southeast Asia in response to the continuing North Vietnamese offensive in South Vietnam.

Sources Sunday said two more aircraft carriers, the Midway and Saratoga, are hurriedly preparing for departure to the Far East, and three or four squadrons of F4 Phantom fighter-bombers are on alert for possible flight to Southeast Asia.

A group calling itself the Ad Hoc Military Buildup Committee told The Associated Press in Boston early today that the 3rd Marine Air Wing at El Toro Marine Air Station, Calif., had received immediate orders for Vietnam.

The Pentagon, following standard procedure regarding discussion of military maneuvers, refused to discuss reported alerts and movements in connection with the 12-day-old offensive.

An officer aboard the Saratoga at Mayport Naval Station in Florida said crewmen were informed Sunday the ship would sail Tuesday for an unexpected eight-month tour off the coast of Vietnam.

The officer, who asked not to be identified, said the 4,700-man vessel previously had been scheduled to leave for the Mediterranean May 1. Two squadrons of jet fighters based at nearby Cecil Field Naval Air Station were alerted to join the carrier, the officer said.

Sources with the U.S. 7th Fleet said the Midway is on final training maneuvers off the coast of Southern California. She is expected to sail for the Far East perhaps as early as today in what amounts to a speedup of several weeks in her scheduled cruise to the Western Pacific.

The 7th Fleet added two carriers and a number of smaller ships last week to the two carriers and support vessels already on station off the Vietnam coast.

The reports that three or four Phantom squadrons of about 18 planes each had been alerted came from Pentagon sources who denied reports of widespread alerts at air and naval bases in this country. The sources said only a small number of units had been alerted.

Within the past week, about 75 Air Force and Marine aircraft, including B52 heavy bombers and F105 and F4 fighter-bombers have been ordered to Southeast Asia from the United States and Japan. The buildup has marshaled more than 700 American warplanes within striking range of North and South Vietnam.

Wilson Faces Senate ITT Probers

By TOM SEPPY, Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Rob Wilson, R-Calif., said today the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. guaranteed to underwrite half the $800,000 which San Diego had to commit to obtain next summer's Republican National Convention, but the ITT figure was lowered two months later.

Wilson, the key figure in bringing the convention to his home city, told the Senate Judiciary Committee that ITT's commitment was just a working figure and that he had assured Harold S. Geneen, ITT president, "we could soon work the underwriting down to a reasonable figure as far as Sheraton's (an ITT subsidiary) obligation was concerned."

In a prepared statement, he said that he told Geneen last May that San Diego could come up with sufficient financing if it were given a little time but that the deadline was past due. "We kicked the idea around of my going to leading businessmen and getting commitments from them and putting together a bid package," Wilson said. "He then suggested if I would take the lead he thought Sheraton would underwrite up to $300,000 and would, of course, be willing to actually commit for their fair share of the total amount of money needed."

"I told him I thought it would not be difficult to put a bid together quickly. He then told me he would see that they backed me personally for half the total amount needed, which would be $400,000.

"There was no written agreement, not even a handshake, but my personal knowledge of Mr. Geneen satisfied me as to the integrity of his guarantee," said Wilson.

Wilson was the leadoff witness in the Judiciary committee's expanded investigation of ITT, the GOP convention and Acting Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst.

The panel voted last Friday to enlarge the probe to include new accusations of Justice Department favoritism toward prominent San Diego politicians. Those allegations were contained in a Life magazine report.

It agreed, however, to hold only nine more days of hearings before voting by April 27 on whether to approve again the nomination of Kleindienst to be attorney general.

Columnist Jack Anderson published an ITT interoffice memo Feb. 29 linking the out-of-court settlement of three antitrust suits against ITT with the conglomerate's financial commitment to the city of San Diego for the convention.

Kleindienst, whose nomination had been approved unanimously by the committee in late February, asked for the chance to answer the Anderson charges in reopened hearings.

Panel Rules State Vote Law Illegal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A three-judge federal panel has ruled as unconstitutional an Arkansas law requiring a person to be a resident of the state for a year and of a county for six months in order to vote.

In issuing the ruling, the court cited a March 21 U.S. Supreme Court decision declaring a one-year residency requirement in Tennessee as unconstitutional.

The panel, however, did allow a provision to stand which requires that a person live in an Arkansas precinct for 30 days before being eligible to vote.

The ruling came in a class suit filed earlier this year by Mrs. Mary Jane Smith of Little Rock. She filed the suit after being denied voting privileges because of her failure to meet Arkansas' residency requirements. The three-judge panel held a brief hearing on the suit Friday morning. There was no estimate at that time of how many persons would be affected if the law was ruled unconstitutional.

The panel said its decision to permit the 30 day in-precinct requirement to stand was not to be considered a ruling on the constitutionality of the provision. The panel said the section would help alleviate certain election problems this year, primarily those created by the new apportionment plan. The panel said the in-precinct provision would be in jeopardy after this year.

The panel also pointed out that the state has a provision requiring a person to register 20 days prior to the election. The panel said the legislature, which meets again in 1973, might want to consider lengthening the 20-day deadline in view of the elimination of residency requirements.

Nixon to Speak to Canadians

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will address a joint session of the Canadian Parliament and sign a Great Lakes water quality agreement during a three-day visit to Ottawa this week, the White House announced today.

The President and Mrs. Nixon are due to arrive in Ottawa early Thursday evening for a state visit as the guests of Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau.

They will be guests of honor at a state dinner that night given by Gov.-Gen. and Mrs. Roland Michener.

The President and the Prime Minister will meet for private talks Friday and also for discussions with top-level officials of both countries.

Nixon will address a joint session of the Senate and House of Commons Friday afternoon. The simultaneous announcements in Washington and Ottawa today said the historic signing of the recently completed Great Lakes water quality agreement between the two nations will take place at a second meeting of Nixon and Trudeau on Saturday.

In the planning stages since 1964, work on the agreement was completed last month. Aimed at controlling water pollution in the Great Lakes boundary between the United States and Canada, it is the first agreement of its kind between two nations to establish common antipollution standards.

Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the Nixons will return to Washington after the signing ceremony.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The autopsy report of two Clay County law enforcement officials shot down last week will not be ready for another week or ten days.

State Medical Examiner Rodney Carlton said Saturday that when the reports are completed he will mail them to the prosecutor in the district.

Clay County Sheriff Doug Barrevy, 48, of Piggott and Deputy Sheriff Glen Archer, 35, of Corning were killed Thursday as they attempted to serve a warrant on Elbert Ray "Bert" Grissom, 52, of McDouga.

Another deputy was injured in the incident. Grissom has been charged with two counts of first-degree murder and one count of assault with intent to kill.

Academy Night May Be Blacked Out

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The ballots are counted and it's Academy Award night, but a labor dispute could black out television coverage of tonight's 44th annual Oscar presentations in the United States and 38 other countries.

Five hundred members of a stagehands union, Stage Employees Alliance Local 33, voted Sunday to strike the television networks, including NBC, which is showing the Academy Awards. But the union members were waiting final authorization today from their national headquarters.

An NBC spokesman said the telecast would go on without the stagehands. But if related behind the scenes unions also walked out as the stagehands predicted, "we can't say what the impact would be," the spokesman said. NBC estimates the audience for the 10 p.m. EST show at 75 million in the United States alone.

A record 39 countries were scheduled for the telecast, five more than last year. Live broadcasting was planned for eight countries, delayed showing in the rest because of time differences.

In any case, the two-hour Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences show will go on before a live audience of 2,900 at the Los Angeles Music Center Pavilion.

Charlie Chaplin, 83 next Sunday, will get an honorary Academy award. George C. Scott and Glenda Jackson, winners last year, are up for repeats. And the best-picture race is a bewildering mix with no sure-fire favorites.

Winners of the Oscars are chosen by secret ballots of the academy's 3,068 voting members. Nominees for the best picture of 1971 are:

—"A Clockwork Orange," X-rated, hectic and advertised as "about a man who loves ultraviolence, rape and Beethoven." It won the New York Film Critics' awards for best picture and direction, by Stanley Kubrick.

—"Fiddler on the Roof," a rollicking musical with tragic overtones at the time of the Russian Revolution.

—"The French Connection," a slam-bang contemporary melodrama about two New York detectives on the trail of smuggled narcotics.

—"The Last Picture Show," a nostalgic, black and white film about a small Texas town and teen-agers discovering sex.

—"Nicholas and Alexandra," which depicts the life and turbulent times of Russia's last czar.

Gene and Myra had a fight and he walked off with another woman. I took her home, we drank quite a lot (I was feeling sorry for myself, too)—and later we all laughed about the one and only big brannigan Myra and Gene ever had.

Which brings me to the present, 16 years later. Their son, Gene Jr., age 15, was in an automobile accident and required blood transfusions. I'm in the lab of the local hospital. In the course of taking blood samples and making analyses, I found out that the boy could not be Gene's son! Possibly their family doctor already knows this, but I'm sure neither Gene nor Myra does. Gene Jr. looks like his mother, but has so many of his father's mannerisms that people thank they're deadringers for each other. I have never seen a father and son so close.

I know you are thinking that this has got to be fiction. I wish it were! You see, my blood type IS compatible with Gene Jr.'s. The time element checks (as near as I can recall). But that night 16 years ago is a total black-out for me.

Should I ask Myra, tell Gene, or continue to wonder all my life if my best friend's son is really mine? For two months, I've thought of little else.

If you print this, please do so before May when they will be home from a cruise and reading the paper again. Also I've changed details so that friends won't recognize the family—PLEASE—NOT A FATHER

DEAR NOT:

I'd say: erase the results of the blood tests from your mind as thoroughly as you blanked out what happened on that long-ago night. There's a strong possibility that Myra or Gene maybe both already know Gene Jr. isn't his father's natural son. If this doesn't bother them—and you must definitely don't want to claim the boy then don't share your suspicions with anyone, except if you feel compelled, their family doctor. I'm sure he'll keep the secret.

NOTE TO READERS: Is this a letter fact or fiction? Advice columnists never really know, but my radar tells me that if it's a father's letter, it's a father's letter.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Charles Downing, Scott and Bryan Austin, Tex. were holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Park and Mrs. Tom Eubank.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Shatner, the network which seems to have an especially warm feeling about sports events the usual spectator sports as well as barrel jumping and demolition derbies tossed a special with a twist into Sunday afternoon.

"Challenge," first of two one-hour shows, introduced two muscular, out-of-door-type actors to new sports. The viewer was able to watch William Shatner and James Coburn go through their nervous initiations and hear them describe their reactions.

Shatner, whose hobby is piloting gliders, described the excitement of soaring and "flirting with fear." Then he was strapped into a kayak a frail, one-man boat—given a paddle and launched into a wild rushing stream.

Although an expert gave him a lesson in how to survive the kayak rolling over, Shatner obviously had a tough time until he got the hang of it—and his breath back. Then he was off, enthusiastically if a little shakily, to try an even more turbulent course.

Coburn apparently had hankered for years to drive a high-powered racing car. He got his chance on the show—a week-long cram course on driving in competition.

Accompanied by his instructor at first, he learned to follow a race course plan, to control his speed and to handle skids. Finally he was ready to speed on his own around the track.

He reacted in much the same way as Shatner, observing, "Once you're in it, you gotta get yourself out of it. It's like diving into cold water."

It was an interesting hour because one could believe the reactions of the two men. One of the difficulties of the George Plimpton series of specials—he tries his hand at everything from trapeze swinging to pro football—is that his approach is almost arch and the program seems to be just another Plimpton stunt designed to produce some saleable material.

CBS's "60 Minutes" provided a frank and tantalizing study of Bobby Fischer, who calls himself "the world's greatest chess player." The profile was made as Fischer was training like a boxer for his approaching match with Boris Spassky, Russian holder of the world's championship title.

Fischer, at 29, was confident he would prevail, but seemed unenthusiastic about the interview. Mike Wallace described him as shy man, suspicious of strangers, and as living an almost monastic life.

fabricating, he'd have carried the story a step further, giving himself a daughter who was in love with Gene Jr. Right? —H. DEAR HELEN:

Our child is hopelessly retarded, deformed; he lies in a crib, almost a vegetable. And he'll never be any better. We have three wonderful, normal children. I can't care for him. Heaven help me, I can't even love him. I have deep pity for him—so much that I wish mercy death were legal. Yet we must make every effort to keep him alive—for what? To remain in an institution where he'll die a slow death?

I never thought much about euthanasia before, but now I know that it is the kindest way. Why can't hopeless cases be mercifully put to sleep, either at birth or as soon as it is definitely determined there is no hope?

And why must incurably ill and suffering people be kept alive when they themselves cry out for death?

Human life is only valuable when it can be of value. People fear that legalized euthanasia would make us the all-powerful judges of who is to live or die. Don't we already do this when we wage war, which dooms some tremendously worthwhile people to death? We do it too with legalized abortions.

I know I'm condemned for wanting my child to die. I had to say this. Don't answer me. Helen — H. DEAR HELEN:

This is a very sensitive family matter. I am sure that you and your husband have been through a great deal of heartache and worry. I am sure that you are doing the best you can for your child. I am sure that you are doing the best you can for your family. I am sure that you are doing the best you can for your life.

Return To Hope

Editor The Star: I have never lived in a town where the people that used to live there come back and visit as much as do the former Hopites. Not being a native, I have always thought this sure does speak well for the people living here, as well as for the visitors keeping their ties in Hope.

Recently I ran into one of these young visitors, I thought, we exchanged pleasantries and I asked, "Where are you living now?" He replied, "I have moved back to Hope and am working for so and so." Since I think a lot of this person's ability I was very pleased. It got me to thinking, you sure hear a lot about there not being a place for young people, no jobs, no incentive to come back home to Hope. I started looking around and am amazed at the young people in jobs, in business for themselves, and being in the mainstream of commercial, community, and church life in our community.

At the Chamber of Commerce Banquet I recalled my recollection and started writing down the names of the young men and women that were at that function and some that weren't.

Are we ever fortunate in Hope. I recall a statement that a wise and successful businessman wrote in my high school annual. "You have an asset that a Rockefeller would give a million for, treat it right, 'Youth.' Applying this philosophy to Hope we would bankrupt the Rockefeller's."

You always know when you make a list, you'll leave somebody off unintentionally. If you're in this category please excuse me, we are thankful you're with us, come on let's make Hope hum.

The following is a list of these young business and professional folks we are so fortunate to have in our town: Mack McLarty; Charles W. Wylie; Jack Caldwell; Dale Wylie; George Wright, Jr.; John Robert Graves; Al Graves; Bucky Sharpe; Dr. Jon Leim; Bill Freeman; John F. Discusses Government

The Hope Rotary Club heard why "we must regain control of the government" when Robert Huber of Detroit, President of the Tolber Corporation and former state senator from Michigan, spoke at the club's luncheon meeting in the Town and Country, Friday, April 7.

His message was titled "Why We Have Governments," and the businessman and politician said it was to protect: our person, our property, our pocketbook and our political rights. He pointed out several examples when the power of the people was bypassed and stated that, as a result, a coalition of groups was usually organized to reestablish those rights.

Rotarian Bill Tolleson was program chairman for the day and introduced his brother-in-law as the speaker. The club's vice-president, Bob Roberts, was in charge of the meeting and he recognized a guest, the Rev. Arnold Teel of North Little Rock.

Milwaukee Defense Too Much for Los Angeles Lakers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Was it Milwaukee's good defense or Los Angeles' inept offense that made the Lakers score only eight points in one quarter of their National Basketball Association playoff game?

It was good defense, says Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello. It was inept offense, says Bill Sharman of Los Angeles.

"We maintained our defenses the entire game," said Costello after Milwaukee stopped Los Angeles 93-72 Sunday in the opener of their best-of-seven Western Conference finals.

"It was just a poor game for us," said Sharman. "It was the worst passing and shooting game we've played all season. We had no patience, no quickness and we lost confidence."

Along with the confidence, the supposedly stronger Lakers also lost the game in the third period when they could only score four field goals.

The Lakers shot only 20 per cent from the field on 4-of-20 shots. Wilt Chamberlain, Gail Goodrich, John Trapp and Jerry West each had a field goal.

Los Angeles' ineffectiveness helped the Bucks outscore the home club 31-8 and pull away from a 37-34 halftime lead to 68-42 at the end of three quarters.

In Sunday's other NBA playoff games, the Boston Celtics beat the Atlanta Hawks 127-118 to capture their Eastern Conference semifinal series four games to two. The Celtics will play the Eastern finals against the winner of the New York Knicks-Baltimore Bullets series. The Knicks lead that one, 3-2, after Sunday's 106-82 triumph.

There was no NBA games Saturday and none scheduled tonight.

In the American Basketball Association playoffs Sunday, Denver stunned Indiana 106-99 to tie the West Division semifinal series at 3-3.

Saturday's ABA games, however, defeated New York 107-97 and cut the Nets' margin in the East Division semifinal to 3-2. Indiana topped Denver 91-72.

Kentucky visits New York tonight in the continuation of their series.

The Lakers had beaten the Bucks four times in five meetings this year and were favored to win the opener of their playoffs at Los Angeles.

It was a tense game for a while. Then came the disastrous third quarter for the Lakers.

"Our defense caused a lot of turnovers," said Costello. "They weren't getting good percentage shots. And this is what we knew we had to do in order to execute a successful game plan."

"Milwaukee's defense is always good," said West, the great Laker guard who had one of his worst games with 10 points. "It was just a combination of their great defense and our being off. I don't ever remember being off as much as I was today."

Sharman said that a five-day layoff after sweeping a playoff series from the Chicago Bulls hurt the Lakers.

"I don't want to alibi," said Sharman, "but the layoff did hurt us."

Kareem Abdul Jabbar scored 33 points to lead the Milwaukee offense, but the thing that really killed Los Angeles was its unproductive third period. Goodrich, the other half of the usually reliable backcourt, wound up with only eight points. Chamberlain scored 10 for the Lakers.

Boston topped Atlanta with an explosive, 41-point first period. Dave Cowen and John Havlicek led the triumph with 26 points apiece as Boston secured its only road victory of the series.

"We just decided we had to go out and win a game on the road in the playoffs," said Havlicek. "Up until now, we had just been exchanging games, losing in Atlanta and winning in Boston."

"You can't do that in definitely and expect to win the NBA playoffs. So today we decided to put a little more into it, maybe psyche ourselves a little."

Jerry Lucas and Earl Monroe each scored 20 points in a balanced New York attack and the Knicks threw up one of their best defenses of the year to beat Baltimore.

"It was our best team defense since the last time we had Willis Reed," said Walt Frazier, referring to New York's injured center who was hurt a couple of weeks into the season.

"We were completely ineffective," said Baltimore Coach Gene Shue. "It's nice to have togetherness, but in our case, we were just struggling together."

Al Smith's jump shot with two minutes remaining helped Denver turn back an Indiana rally led by Rick Mount as the Rockets surprised the favorites.

Byron Beck scored 24 points to lead Denver. Mount had 14 points, all in the last quarter, while Mel Daniels scored 26 points and had 23 rebounds for the losers.

Nicklaus Wins Masters

By WILL GRIMSLEY

AP Special Correspondent

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, savoring his fourth Masters golf title, is not prepared to regard it as the first leg of a potential grand slam.

"It is silly to talk about it at this stage," the man with the golden golfing touch said late Sunday as he fingered the threads of a size 12 long green jacket that symbolized a cautious three-stroke victory in the year's first major golf spectacle.

"You can't lump all four of the big tournaments together and think realistically of winning them in one year. If I should win at Pebble Beach and then at Muirfield, then you might talk about a grand slam. But not now the odds are too great against it."

The 33-year-old Nicklaus acknowledged that he planned now to concentrate on winning the U.S. Open in June at Pebble Beach, Calif., and, if successful there, move on to the British Open at Muirfield in July.

The PGA Championship at the giant Oakland Hills course in Detroit completes the big tour of major championships which no man has won in a single year. The Las Vegas odds against such a sweep are 1,000-1.

"Sure, it's on my mind I can't avoid it," Jack confessed. "I like the four courses on which the tournaments are played. But, right now, I'd like to just sit back and savor this Masters victory."

In winning the 1972 masters, he had every round, Nicklaus boosted the number of his major titles to 12, one less than B.B. Jones' record 13, and left his season and all-time money winnings starting to new heights, more than $130,000 for the year and in excess of $1,500,000 in his career.

He triggered a new accolade in the entire golf world by being in a class all by himself, said Lee Trevino, 1971 champion of the year.

There is Jack Nicklaus and there are the rest of us, he said.

Bobcats Host Texarkana

Bobcats host the Arkansas Razorbacks football team today at Legion Field in Birmingham. The game is the first of a two-game series between the two teams.

The Razorbacks, who were ranked 14th in the last Sports Illustrated poll, will be looking for a victory over the Bobcats, who were ranked 18th.

The game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. and will be televised on ABC. Tickets are available at the stadium and through local ticket agencies.

The Bobcats are coached by Tom Allen and the Razorbacks by Bear Bryant. Both teams are looking to improve their records in the SEC.

Jamieson Explains Play

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) —

"People will say I choked," said cherub-faced Jim Jamieson, "but I feel like a winner."

The stubby, round man from Moline, Ill., called by some the bargain basement pro, arrived at the flowery Augusta National Golf Club course Sunday looking for the first victory of his pro career in one of the game's four major tests—the prestigious Masters.

The likeable, 5-foot-10, 210-pounder ballooned to a five-over-par 77, falling into a five-way tie for third place after starting the day only one stroke behind the Golden Bear, Jack Nicklaus, who claimed his fourth crown here with a closing 74.

"I played bad and I deserved it," Jamieson said.

"But I feel like a winner anyway," he added, "especially when you consider what happened to Gene Littler and Gay Brewer. It makes you happy just to be able to play."

Littler, who lost a playoff to Billy Casper in the 1970 Masters, underwent surgery for suspected cancer earlier in the week at San Diego. Brewer, 1967 Masters champion, was hospitalized with internal bleeding on the eve of this year's event and had to withdraw.

"I sent them both flowers today and told them how much I thought they meant to the game," said Jamieson, who undoubtedly won the hearts of weekend duffers throughout the country by becoming the sensation of his first Masters.

Unlike most pros, who use matched sets of precision clubs, Jamieson's bag contains a little bit of everything—Golfcraft woods, Ping long irons, Spalding middle irons, Powerbilt short irons, a Walter Hagen pitching wedge and a Ben Hogan sand iron.

Travelers to Open Play

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) —

The Arkansas Travelers of the Texas League and the Arkansas State University Indians will play an exhibition game at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

The game will mark the second meeting in three years between the two. The travelers won 8-0 in 1970.

The travelers open their season Friday against Memphis.

AM&N Barred by AIC Board

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) —

Arkansas AM&N has been barred from competing with other Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference schools during the 1972-73 school year.

The executive committee of the AIC took that action Saturday as the result of fights between AM&N students and fans at the NATA District 17 basketball tournament last month and at other AIC events, officials said.

The committee said AM&N would not be eligible to compete for conference championships in any sport. The ruling said, however, that any AIC school, at its own discretion, may schedule events with the predominately black Pine Bluff college.

Coach Optimistic Over Olympics

DALLAS (AP) — Southern

California coach Peter Daland, the U.S. men's coach for the 1972 Olympic swim team, is optimistic about the United States chances but there's an asterisk. "I don't know if we can do as well in the men's division as we did in 1964 and 1968," said Daland as he looked over prospects at the National AAU Short Course Swimming Championships here.

"That will be our challenge," he said. "The rest of the world is getting better and it will be difficult to match our previous performances."

Daland didn't get too good a look at what the men can do in this meet because many said there really weren't "up" for the meet after going all out only two weeks ago at the NCAA national championships at West Point, N.Y.

It was a different story for the women, who outscored the men 6-2 in setting American records during the four-day meet at the 25-yard Loos Fieldhouse Pool.

Susie Atwood of the Lakewood Aquatic Club and Mark Spitz of Indiana were triple winners and high point producers.

There were eight American and eight AAU records set during the meet.

There were five double winners among the men, including four from Indiana, Spitz, John Kinsella, Gary Hall, and Mike Stamm. Brian Job of Stanford was the other double winner.

Barbara Shaw of Riverside set an American record of 51.60 in the 100-yard freestyle. Miss Atwood, who holds the world record in the women's 200-meter backstroke, set American records of 2:04.01 in the 200-yard backstroke and 1:28.85 in the 400-yard individual medley. Miss Atwood also won the 100-yard backstroke in 58.75.

Karen Moe of the Santa Clara Swim Club pulled the rug from under Ellie Daniel in the 200-yard butterfly. Miss Daniel set an American record 2:03.37 in the prelims and Miss Moe broke it in the finals with a 2:03.34.

In women's relay events, Santa Clara A team set an American record of 7:36.84 in the 800-yard freestyle and the Lakewood 400-yard medley relay team set an American record of 3:57.43.

Hall set an American record of 3:38.09 in the 400-yard individual medley.

Spitz won the 100 and 200 yard butterfly, setting an AAU championship record of 48.76 in the 100. He tied the AAU record of 45.10 in winning the 100-yard freestyle.

Job set an American record of 2:02.36 in the 200-yard breaststroke.

Stamm won the 200-yard backstroke in 1:51.03 lowering Hall's AAU meet record of 1:51.30.

Lakewood's Steve Genter broke the 200-yard freestyle meet record twice with a time of 1:39.84 in the prelims and 1:39.56 in winning the finals.

Southern California set an AAU record of 6:42.16 in the 800-yard freestyle relay.

Progress in Baseball Strike

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

With President Nixon keeping an eye on the situation and buoyed by the first progress in months, talks aimed at settling the 10-day-old baseball strike moved from New York to Washington today, where both sides were to meet with a federal mediator.

But even should the dispute, which centers around the amount the major league club owners will contribute to the players' pension fund and which has delayed the opening of the season, be settled, a new stumbling block loomed over whether the players would be entitled to full salaries.

At one point Sunday night, today's on again-off again meeting with J. Curtis Counts, head of the Federal Mediation Service, seemed off at the request of the owners after they made what spokesman John Gaherin called their "first money offer to the pension plan."

Gaherin did not disclose the amount of the offer.

Today's meeting was back on again after Counts, a former UCLA baseball captain, received a call from the President urging that he do everything he can to get the strike settled.

A spokesman for Counts said the President told Counts he was "very interested in seeing the dispute settled so they can get the season started."

The baseball season was to have started last Wednesday.

Scheduled to attend today's meeting were Counts; Robert Kennedy of the Federal Mediation Service's New York office; Gaherin and Marvin Miller, executive director of the striking Major League Baseball Players Association.

After submitting the owners' new pension offer, Gaherin expressed optimism that the strike might soon be over.

"I hope we're approaching the end," he said.

Asked about the possibility of a settlement today, he and Miller at one point were scheduled to meet in New York—he replied: "I hope so. I feel we're picking up momentum. Based on where we've been, I'd say we made substantial progress."

But Miller called the new money "a token offer."

Meanwhile, a new issue of disagreement threatened to arise as owners stood firm on docking the players their daily salaries while the strike lasts.

Poor Hope to Get Richer in Draft

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The poor hope to get richer today when the National Basketball Association holds its annual draft of college talent.

Portland, yearning to land a powerhouse center, has the first pick and is expected to take 6-foot-10 LaRue Martin of Chicago Loyola.

The Trail Blazers, initially interested in North Carolina's Robert McAdoo, reportedly were dissuaded from the 6-9 center when they learned he was considering an offer from the American Basketball Association.

If Martin gets a big-money deal as the NBA's No. 1 choice, he will be in a small group, according to pro scouts. There's a scarcity of star quality players this season, they say.

It is the worst senior crop in memory," says General Manager Joe Axelson of the Kansas City, Mo. Cincinnati, Mo. Bulls.

McAdoo, despite the reports that he is ABA-bound, will no doubt be among those selected since the 17 NBA teams make their selections by phone through Commissioner Walter Kennedy's New York office.

Portland winner of the coveted No. 1 choice by virtue of a losing record in the National Basketball Association last season, will select from a group of players that includes 6-foot-10 Baker of South Carolina and 6-foot-11 Len Chappell of the University of the Pacific.

Other players on the list include Mike Dunlap of East Carolina and a Kentucky State forward who is a star of the college basketball circuit and has been named a national player.

hops, the best shooter in the bunch.

Mel Davis of St. John's, N.Y., a 6-7 forward, originally declared himself eligible for the draft as a hardship case, but has said he will pull his name off the list and stay in school for another year.

That leaves McAdoo and Princeton's Brian Taylor, one of the top guards available, as the two major hardship cases who are leaving college a year earlier for the pros.

Taylor is among a group of talented, eligible guards which includes Jim Price of Louisville, Harold Fox of Jacksonville, West Virginia's Wil Robinson, Fred Boyd of Oregon State, Henry Bibby of UCLA, Paul Westphal of Southern Cal, Dave Twardzik of Old Dominion, Greg Kohns of Syracuse and Bud Stallworth of Kansas.

Battalo will select behind Portland Cleveland, which got the No. 1 choice last season, will go third this time. Phoenix will be fourth in the opening-round draft. Having obtained Houston's position by trading Greg Moore to the Rockets.

The rest of the first-round order includes No. 5 Philadelphia, No. 6 Milwaukee from Boston in a trade for Greg Smith, No. 7 Seattle, No. 8 New York, No. 9 Detroit and No. 10 Phoenix in an annual trading lottery. No. 10 Boston, No. 11 Chicago, No. 12 Milwaukee and No. 13 Los Angeles.

Phoenix's last first-round pick, guard Jerry West, was traded to the Lakers last season. Phoenix also has a second-round pick, forward Steve Nisenson, who was traded to the Lakers last season.

Consumer Education Helps Students

James Morrow of Lewis McLarty Department Store explains the value of hang-tags to Consumer Education students, Linda Boatman, Virginia Williams, and Debbie Barham.

unethical retailers, and the lack of money management know-how among the young and the poor.

Following a study of family budgets in families with one and two incomes, a series of speakers and field trips enriched the study of money management.

Charles Sharpe, Jr. of the First National Bank spoke on Consumer Credit - its uses and the responsibilities of the user. Forrest Singleton, manager of the local J. C. Penney store provided filmstrips and other educational material published by the Penney Company.

George Frazier and Don Stanley of the Anderson-Frazier Insurance Company emphasized that insurance has many savings features as well as providing protection.

"Read the labels and do comparison shopping," was urged by both Delores McBride, Extension Home Economist, who spoke on food buying, and James Morrow of Lewis-McLarty Department Store who stressed the importance of labels or hang-tags in the clothing you buy.

In an effort to keep abreast of new appliances on the market, students made a field trip to Colliers Furniture and Appliance to see the new counter-top range. This range with a ceramic cooktop and self cleaning oven was demonstrated by Paula Poindexter, a job trainee at Colliers from the Cooperative Vocational Training Course taught by Mrs. Carole Lester at Hope High School. While at Colliers the students also studied other appliances.

In a field trip to Young Chevrolet, Kinard Young gave the students many pointers on selection of a new or used car and pointed out some of the responsibilities you assume with car ownership.

A major part of a family's income is paid out for shelter whether you rent or buy. Types of housing available in Hope and their advantages and disadvantages to the family in its various stages of the life cycle are now being studied. In this connection Mrs. Rose Marie Shirey conducted the classes on a tour of several units of the Federal Housing Project and answered questions on urban renewal. The classes will also visit Young American Homes. Mrs. Helen Clark and Mrs. Estelle Spearman are Consumer Education instructors.

Morey Wins Magnolia Meet

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — Mike Morley won the $35,000 fifth annual Magnolia Classic by three strokes Sunday with the first four rounds of sub-par golf and lowest score ever shot in the tournament.

Morley, 25, a three-year veteran playing out of Scottsdale, Ariz., won the $7,000 first prize with rounds of 67-67-66-69—269 over the 6,731-yard Hattiesburg Country Club course.

Rick Rhodes, who led the second round of the tourney, a satellite to the Masters, finished with a three-under-par 67 for a 272 total good for $4,200. Bunky Henry and John Mahaffey tied for third with 273s.

Rik Massengale, Curtis Sifford and Billy Ziobro were deadlocked at 274.

The start of the final round was delayed from 9 a. m. until 1:01 p. m. to avoid conflict with Mississippi's blue laws which prohibit golf before 1 p. m.

Questioned in Auto Theft Ring

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Tribune reported in today's editions that star Green Bay Packer running back John Brockington is being questioned in connection with a nationwide luxury auto theft ring.

In a copyright story, the Tribune reported that authorities questioned the National Football League's 1971 Rookie of the Year after he allegedly purchased a $10,000 stolen car for $2,200.

Brockington said he didn't know the car was stolen.

Brockington was questioned by FBI officials in Columbus, Ohio, the newspaper said, and told authorities he was offered the car over the telephone by a man he identified as George Moon, 28, of Chicago.

Police said Moon was arrested Jan. 31 on charges of driving a stolen car. The Tribune said police found slips of paper in Moon's pockets that were apparently orders for stolen cars, including one slip with Brockington's name on it.

Brockington said he received the car after an exchange of money and car keys at his Green Bay, Wis., apartment. The car was later identified as one stolen in Chicago last December.

BRISTOL, Tenn. (AP) — Bobby Allison of Hueytown, Ala., says he was "running almost as strong at the finish as when I started," and he had 29 drivers well behind him in the 12th annual Southeastern 500 NASCAR Grand National stock car race to prove it.

Allison, the leading money winner on the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing circuit this season, was four laps in front of runner-up Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N.C. Allison led 458 of the 500 laps of Sunday's race at the 533-mile Bristol International Speedway.

It was the second straight Winston Cup series victory for Allison, who averaged 92.83 miles per hour in his Junior Johnson-prepared 1972 Chevrolet before a record crowd here of 34,700.

Allison had started on the pole but relinquished the lead after 26 laps to Coo Coo Marlin of Columbia, Tenn., driving a 1971 Chevrolet. When he returned to the lead after the 100th lap, Allison swapped the front-running spot several times with Isaac, driving a 1972 Dodge, and Plymouth driver Richard Petty of Mandeville, La.

But the Alabama driver took over the lead for good on the 177th lap and never was threatened. He won by 1.5 seconds over Isaac, who finished second in 25 minutes, 54.2 seconds. Allison's victory was his 11th in the Winston Cup series and his 25th in NASCAR's top level. He had won the 1971 season-opening Daytona 500 and the 1971 season-ending Southern 500.

Says McClellan Hijacking Hasn't Scored

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., commented Sunday on statements by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., that McClellan was the quarterback of Arkansas' progress.

McClellan, who is running for re-election, made that comparison before the Young Democrats Saturday.

Pryor, Ted Boswell of Little Rock and Foster Johnson of Little Rock are seeking the Democratic nomination for McClellan's position.

"If a man, whether he be a football player or United States senator, has been carrying the ball for 30 years and has not yet scored for his team ... then the time is past due to take that man out of the starting line-up and pass the ball to a fresh player," Pryor said.

Pryor said that receiving federal money for projects is not enough.

"My friends here and all over Arkansas, the type of dinner at which federal pork is served is not always a feast to which the vast majority of Arkansians can be invited to partake of," Pryor said.

He said he supports public works projects, but he said "only after due consideration is given to the sociology and ecology of the areas affected."

Woman Dies in House Fire

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Effie Croft, 91, of Jonesboro has died in a fire that destroyed her home.

Fire Chief Fred Rorex said the fire, which occurred Saturday, apparently started in the living room of the house. The cause was not determined.

Hijacking Proves Unsuccessful

By LEE MARGULIES Associated Press Writer SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A California man tried unsuccessfully to pull off a jetliner hijacking Sunday, making ransom and parachute demands similar to those used two days earlier by a Utah man who commandeered a passenger jet. Arrests were made in both cases.

Arrested here Sunday was a man identified as Stanley Harlan Speck, 31, of San Francisco, who was captured shortly after a Pacific Southwest Airlines Boeing 727 was ordered by a would-be hijacker to set down at Lindbergh Field here.

Speck, nabbed by federal agents as he stepped off the plane, was booked for investigation of air piracy and interfering with a flight crew. He was found to be unarmed, authorities said.

Earlier Sunday, a man arrested in Provo, Utah, was charged with air piracy in the hijacking of a United Air Lines jet Friday over Colorado. In that hijacking, the sky pirate bailed out over Utah with $500,000 in ransom money.

Charged in the Friday hijacking was Richard Floyd McCoy, 29, an amateur skydiver.

The $500,000 ransom was still officially listed as missing.

Sunday's attempted hijacking was the eighth involving parachutes in just under five months. The only parachute-skyjacking in which there have been no arrests was one involving a man known as D.B. Cooper, still sought after bailing out over Eastern Washington with $200,000 he got from Northwest Airlines.

The Sunday night hijack attempt of the Pacific Southwest plane by a man who wanted to go to Miami began during a 500-mile flight from Oakland to San Diego. The plane had 92 persons aboard. The hijacker threatened to blow up the jet with a hand grenade, officials reported.

The FBI said that pilot Arthur Steck told the hijacker that he needed flight maps to go to Florida.

After Land Steck said he or the hijacker would have to leave the plane to get the charts. The 86 passengers, meanwhile, were allowed to deplane.

The hijacker stepped halfway down the ramp to get the maps and was seized by two FBI agents dressed as mechanics.

Powell Is Buried

NEW YORK (AP) — They testified for Adam Clayton Powell Jr. They overflowed the church in mournful presence and stood outside. They remembered in eulogies that he was one of the first to say it loud and proud.

The controversial former congressman, who died in Miami last week at 63, was praised by civic, religious and political leaders at the funeral Sunday as a black leader who broke new ground.

"Never before have so many people owed so much to one man," Dr. Samuel Proctor, a professor of education at Rutgers University, told the more than 2,000 persons who jammed the Abyssinian Baptist church.

"He gave us our first evidence that American institutions were capable of any change at all. He gave us a new basis for hope when our churches, colleges, union, hotels—all were segregated," he said.

Powell's body lay in a coffin lined in white velvet at the front of the church where he was pastor for 34 years.

His body will be cremated in Miami today and the ashes scattered over the island of Bimini in the Bahamas, where he made his home in recent years.

Man can live without food for as long as five weeks but only four or five days without water, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: "The most skillful form of bridge competition is an IMP team match where a hand is played just twice and all you have to do is to play more successfully than opponents' partners."

Jim: "You said 'more successfully,' not 'better.' In other words there is still some luck involved."

Oswald: "Here is a hand from a match played a few years back. The bidding in the box took place at one table. North's three-heart call was an all-purpose modern cue bid. It could be the start of a slam try or it could be an invitation to South to try no-trump. South went to no-trump on the theory that maybe his queen of hearts would be a key."

Jim: "I imagine South was happy when he saw that jack of hearts lead?"

Oswald: "He was! It looked as if his queen of hearts would be the ninth trick but when East produced the king and returned the suit, South had to go one down. At the other table."

Vitamin is No Cure-All

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—A friend of mine said that her husband had taken large doses of vitamin E and that it had brought on diabetes. Is this possible? I take 800 units daily for high cholesterol and feel fine.

Dear Reader—I am not a vitamin E enthusiast since its value in amounts greater than one should get in a sensible diet has not been proved. The American Medical Assn. has not endorsed the many claims for the benefits of additional vitamin E either. The recommended daily requirement does not exceed 30 units (well within the range of what you should get in a decent diet). For suspected vitamin E deficiency no more than five times the usual daily requirement is necessary. Hence the maximum dose needed in an adult would be less than 150 units.

There are no established cases of diabetes from taking vitamin E that I have ever seen or read about. And there is no good evidence that additional vitamin E in adults eating a good diet lowers cholesterol either. Cholesterol is lowered by decreasing your body fat, using a proper diet, and in some people other medicines.

Vitamin E is plentiful in the low-fat diets recommended for prevention of heart disease, because these diets include more polyunsaturated fats and foods rich in vitamin E. Salad oils, margarine, vegetable oils, fruit, and grain products are all good sources of vitamin E. The presence of abundant vitamin E in a wide variety of foods is one reason why vitamin E deficiency in humans is essentially unknown except in premature infants.

I was amused to see a

North just bid three no-trump after the two heart overcall. East opened his partner's suit and the queen of hearts became declarer's ninth trick."

Jim: "Real luck. Most of the time the king of hearts would be held by the bidder of the heart suit and South would have been the proper declarer. Of course, with no heart lead at all there would only be eight tricks since eventually West would get in and lead hearts toward the king."

♥+CARD Sense♦♦

The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 ♠	2 ♣	Pass	2 ♠
Pass	3 ♣	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
 ♠ A K 6 5 4 ♥ A 2 ♦ J ♣ A K 6 5 4

What do you do now?

A—Bid three hearts. This is the best forcing bid now at your disposal.

District of Columbia Is a Major Abortion Center

By MARGARET GENTRY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a 71-year-old abortion law and a Supreme Court decision upholding it, the District of Columbia is moving into the ranks of major abortion centers.

Directors of four flourishing abortion clinics report an average of more than 600 abortions a week are being performed, or about 32,000 a year. Abortions also are being performed at numerous doctor's offices across the city.

The availability of medically approved abortions has caused a drastic drop in the number of maternal deaths due to shadow world abortions, according to two Washington doctors.

Dr. William Peterson, chairman of Washington Hospital Center's department of obstetrics and gynecology and director of its abortion clinic, said there has not been a maternal death due to a botched abortion or resulting infection in the district since 1970.

About half of all maternal deaths in the city were due to botched abortions or resulting infections until that year, he said. There were 11 maternal deaths due to childbirth or pregnancy in Washington in 1970.

Dr. William Washington, executive director of D.C. General Hospital, said the number of infected cases "has dropped markedly."

"We used to run about 875 a year," he said. "Now that has dropped off 40 per cent."

Washington, Peterson and others familiar with the abortion practice agreed the District has become attractive to abortion-seekers from many states. Yet, it does not rival New York in the number of abortions performed. That state, which has the nation's most liberal abortion law, reported 164,000 legal abortions in the first year.

The four District clinics say most patients are from Washington and its suburbs. But at one, Pre-Birth, director Philip Brown said one-third of the patients now come from out of the area.

Women from the South and Midwest form the largest contingent of patients from other than the Washington area, but the clinic directors expect that to change as the legal bans fall away in those states.

Washington may be unique in that abortion became legally accepted despite no change in its 71-year-old abortion law and even a Supreme Court endorsement of that law.

The 1901 law permitted abortions only when necessary "for the preservation of the mother's life or health." A federal district court judge ruled the law unconstitutional, and, during the 17 months the case was on appeal, doctors began performing abortions.

When the Supreme Court upheld the law as constitutional in April 1971, it interpreted it to include "psychological as well as physical well being" of the mother. The court also ruled that if a doctor were arrested the burden would be on the prosecutor to prove the abortion was not necessary, instead of on the doctor to prove that it was.

Even now, said Dr. Peterson, "the doctor may be called on to say he has determined an abortion is in the best interests of the mother. But there has been social change, and doctors are more willing to do it."

With new legal freedom and the demand for abortions high, the clinic practice has grown.

The most restrictive and highest-priced, Washington Hospital Center, reported more than 3,400 abortions in its first year. Pre-Birth does 150 a week and Hillcrest, the newest, does 120 a week.

Pre-Birth, designed as a research facility as well as a clinic, reports 280 a week. The latter three charge $150 for the abortion, counseling, contraceptives and checkups. The hospital clinic charges $175.

Abortions also are performed in most of the city's hospitals but room rates run up the cost. Some contend the clinics as well as the hospitals still are too restrictive. The D.C. Chapter of the Women's National Abortion Action Coalition has launched a campaign against age and consent requirements.

Washington Hospital Center requires parental consent for girls under 21 and the other three clinics require consent for under-18 patients. Hillcrest and the hospital clinic require the husband's consent if the woman is married; the other two do not.

The doctors interviewed insist that abortion should be legal, but not all are persuaded that it is the best solution to avoid an unwanted child.

"I'm convinced that very few women want, really want, an abortion," said Peterson. "I would like to think we would get to the point that contraceptives would be so widely used, abortions would no longer be necessary. But no, I don't think that's going to happen."

Loses, Gets in the News

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — "It seems like every time I lose, I get in the news," complained women's tennis great Billie Jean King in her latest hour of defeat.

The 28-year-old pro from Palm-Aire, Fla., lost in the championship match of the $18,000 Virginia Slims International Tennis Tournament at Jacksonville's Deerwood Club Sunday.

The new King-killer was unseeded Marie Neumannova of Czechoslovakia, who scored her second major tennis victory by knocking off top-seeded Mrs. King in straight sets 6-4, 6-3.

"It was a great day for tennis but a lousy one for Billie Jean King," said Mrs. King after the upset. "It was extremely windy, but I usually play well in the wind. She just played far superior and deserved to win."

For Miss Neumannova, Sunday was the highlight of her career.

The 25-year-old Czech runs seven miles a day to stay in perfect trim and it stood her in good stead Sunday as she moved easily all over the court, dumping lobbs behind her opponent whenever Billie Jean charged the net.

Miss Neumannova serves left handed, then quickly switches the racquet to her right hand for volleys. She's a left-hander who learned to play tennis right handed, she explained.

Robbery Suspect Being Held

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Illinois officials are holding a man believed to be wanted by the Little Rock police for the January robbery of the Coachman's Inn.

In that robbery, gunman went from room to room robbing hotel guests and 17 persons were held hostage.

Sheriff Meredith Elsworth of Fulton County said that Joe Burnett, 23, was arrested at a garage where he had been working since January in Lewisville, Ill., near here.

A spokesman for the FBI in Peoria says the agency has not decided yet whether to arraign Burnett on federal charges of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution, or whether he will be extradited to Arkansas to face the robbery charge.

Elsworth said Burnett was arrested on the basis of a Little Rock warrant and picture supplied by authorities in Little Rock.

Two other men involved in the robbery have been found guilty and sentenced to jail.

Diversion For Tourist

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP) — Tourists enjoying a sunny day found their attention diverted from the grandeur of the cataracts Sunday.

An unoccupied car, parked near the Horseshoe Falls, turned its light on. Then the lenses shattered.

Then the horn began to blow. The engine started. The car burst into flames and the windshield exploded. Firemen blamed the activity on a short circuit.

Treaty Signed to Prevent Germ Warfare Weapons

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon arranged to be on hand today to witness the signing here by some 80 countries of a treaty to ban germ-warfare weapons.

Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin planned to sign for the Soviet Union, Secretary of State William P. Rogers for the United States.

The United States is cosponsoring the biological-weapons pact with the Soviet Union and Great Britain, another mark of U.S.-Soviet progress in a range of negotiations while the two super-powers are at odds over Vietnam.

The United States and the Soviet Union plan to announce Tuesday a two-year renewal of their cultural-exchange program, expanding somewhat the visits of performing artists, scientists, scholars and the like between the two countries.

Also this week, U.S. and Soviet negotiators expect to start talks on settling Russia's long-standing IOU to the United States for lend-lease aid after World War II. The two sides were a half-billion dollars apart when their bargaining on this issue last broke off 12 years ago.

A lend-lease settlement would wipe out a major obstacle to expanding trade between the two nations. Meanwhile, Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz is in Moscow to push U.S. grain sales.

With Nixon due to visit Moscow next month, diplomats are working overtime to sweeten the setting. But North Vietnam's offensive injects a sour note. Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird accused the Kremlin Friday of being a major contributor to the conflict by its heavy arms shipments to Hanoi.

The germ-warfare treaty was drawn up at the 25-nation Geneva Pactment Conference last year after a policy switch by the Soviets and was endorsed by the U.N. General Assembly by a 110-0 vote.

Its signers pledge not to develop, produce, stockpile or retain biological or toxin weapons, and to destroy any such stocks or divert them to peaceful purposes within nine months after the treaty takes effect.

The pact comes into force when ratified by 22 nations including the three cosponsors.

The treaty will not change existing U.S. policy, since Nixon renounced biological warfare in 1969 and ordered the Pentagon to destroy U.S. stocks. In 1970 he extended the U.S. ban to toxins, which are materials in between biological and chemical agents.

The Soviets a year ago dropped their insistence that the treaty also cover chemical weapons, thus paving the way for an agreement.

Claims a Witch Hunt

CHEYBOYGAN, Mich. (AP) — Louis Church says his refusal to honor the flag last September started a "witch hunt." The school board, stymied in its first attempt to fire the teacher of American history and democracy, is trying to oust him again.

Church, 26, a fourth-year high school teacher was ordered reinstated by the State Tenure Commission last month because, it ruled, Church has the right to refuse to honor the flag.

The school board changed Church's class assignments. When Church refused to accept an assignment of teaching physical education to elementary school children, the board fired him again.

"My crime is that I'm different," said Church, waiting to make another appeal to the State Tenure Commission.

"Mr. Church made an error of judgement," said Supt. Arthur Towse. "The community is very patriotic and conservative.

Crime Program Riddled With Waste

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee has described the government's top federal-state crime-fighting program as riddled with "inefficiency, waste, maladministration, and, in some cases, corruption."

And, the program — which has sent nearly $1.5 billion to states to upgrade law enforcement — "has had no visible impact on the incidence of crime in the United States," the subcommittee concluded.

A copy of the report by the legal and monetary affairs subcommittee on the block-grant program of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration was obtained Sunday by The Associated Press. It will not be made public officially until approved by the parent House Government Operations Committee.

The study also was the subject of a "60 Minutes" report on CBS-TV Sunday night.

Set up under the Safe Streets Act of 1968, LEAA received $698.9 million from Congress for the current fiscal year, most of which was passed on to the states in block grants.

State law-enforcement planning agencies are supposed to distribute most of that money to communities for projects designed to upgrade operations of police, courts and corrections systems.

The subcommittee said "no federal grant-in-aid program has ever received a more rapid increase in appropriated funds than LEAA" yet "there also has been a startling underutilization of funds....

"Considerably less than 25 per cent of the action-grant funds disbursed to subgrantees has been used to fight crime," the report said.

"Large amounts of action funds disbursed to local governments lie idle in local banks or in side-investments. LEAA cannot supply information on the amounts which local governments have actually spent to fight crime."

The subcommittee said the effectiveness of LEAA's block grants had been diminished by the following factors:

— "Diversion of funds for political purposes; "Waste of funds on exorbitant consultant fees; "Expenditure of excessive amounts for equipment, often without proper bidding procedures; "Diversion of funds from the direct needs of the criminal-justice system to areas of social action which are eligible for funding under other federal programs; "Inability on the part of grantees to absorb block-grant funds promptly."

In addition, the report said, LEAA "has failed to develop standards for measuring and evaluating the effectiveness of its block-grant program."

Astronauts Have Own Ideas

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Apollo 16's astronauts have definite ideas about why man should continue to explore the moon and why their method is superior to Russia's unmanned soil collectors.

John W. Young, Charles M. Duke Jr. and Thomas K. Mattingly II were asked in interviews why astronauts continue to go back to the moon and to compare the Apollo exploration with that of Russia's Luna 16 and Luna 20, each of which returned to earth with a few ounces of lunar soil.

"I just say go to the scientific community around the world and I'll guarantee there's not one outside of Russia who would trade his sample of Apollo moon material for the material brought back by the Lunas," Duke declared.

"It's not that the Lunas were not remarkable feats, but they have returned only a few ounces and we have several pounds of carefully selected and documented rocks," he said. "We have lots of extra knowledge based on crew observations when they pick up samples."

Young, who will land on the moon with Duke, added:

"In addition to the documented rocks collected, each of the Apollo crews has emplaced a science station. The instruments in these stations will send back information for years and enable us to learn much about the properties of the moon. From the study of moonquakes, we might learn what causes earthquakes. We'll learn more about the magnetic properties of the moon.

"You can't find out things like that with an unmanned satellite."

ellite that brings back a few grams of lunar material," Young said. "Ten unmanned spacecraft couldn't match what one of our Apollo crews does."

Mattingly said he would operate an elaborate array of cameras and scientific instruments while orbiting the moon alone.

"I'll be able to make observations and judgments that no unmanned satellite could make," he noted. "On Apollo 15, for example, Al Worden spotted and photographed what appeared to be cinder cones and provided a good indication that volcanoes once existed on the moon."

Today's death followed the Friday slaying of Brooklyn mobster Joey, "Crazy Joe" Gallo who was shot three times while he was celebrating his 43rd birthday in a restaurant in Manhattan's Little Italy.

Queens Dist. Atty. Thomas J. Mackell called then for a meeting of the city's five district attorneys "because of the recent upsurge of gangland killings."

Police sources said Ciprio's slaying apparently was in retaliation for Gallo's death.

Ciprio was reputed to have close ties with the Colombo underworld faction, rivals to the Gallo mob, police said.

Ciprio's police record showed eight arrests on charges ranging from malicious mischief to felonious assault.

He was arrested here last September and charged with conspiracy in the sale and interstate transportation of stolen securities. Last November at Chicago grand jury indicted him as a member of a ring dealing in stolen securities.

Mackell cited the March 30 murder of Conrad Greaves, a Queens nightclub owner he described as an "indispensable witness" in a grand jury probe of organized crime.

Last Thursday police reported the gangland-style deaths of Thomas D. Ernst in State Island and Bruno Carnevale, identified as a "soldier" in the Carlo Gambino crime organization.

After Gallo was killed, knowledgeable sources said the death had avenged the shooting that left organized crime figure Joseph Colombo Sr. bed-ridden since last June.

Gallo's struggle for power in the Brooklyn organization that Colombo eventually headed touched off a gang war in the early 1960s that left a dozen persons dead.

$3,000 Lost By McGovern
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. George McGovern's California campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination has suffered a $3,000 loss to thieves, spokesmen say.

Campaign workers placed that estimate on seven electric typewriters, a television set and other equipment stolen over the weekend from campaign headquarters here. Police said there was no sign of forced entry, indicating the thieves may have had a key.

Would Establish a Housing Authority

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mack Harbour of Paragould, a Democratic candidate for governor, has pledged to try to establish a state housing authority to work with local developers to find a way of financing housing construction.

Harbour told the convention of the state Young Democrats Saturday that Arkansas needed 250,000 housing units costing $2.5 billion in the next five years.

Harbor, a hospital administrator, said he would appoint a youth advisory council to help him solve problems of the young if he is governor.

He renewed his charges that Gov. Dale Bumpers has not been informative on state problems or friendly to the people, saying at one point, "I'll go to Moscow, Arkansas, not to Moscow, Russia."

This was a reference to a trip by Bumpers, with several other governors, on a State Department trip to the Soviet Union.

Bumpers, also speaking to the convention, said his administration had reformed the tax structure of the state, enhanced the prospect of further state parks development and worked toward governmental efficiency through the 1971 executive reorganization plan.

The plan placed about 65 agencies in 13 major departments.

State Rep. George W. Davis of Horatio told the Young Democrats that he voted for the governmental reorganization plan because he was not opposed to change and wanted to give it a chance.

But he said he was now sorry he supported the plan.

"We've tried it, and I don't like what I see," he said.

Lester Gibbs of North Little Rock, another Democratic candidate who placed last in the four-man race for the Republican nomination two years ago, said he was still trying to run former Republican Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller out of state government. Gibbs said Bumpers was only a "puppet on a Rockefeller string."

Gangland Killings

NEW YORK (AP) — A Brooklyn restaurant owner, who police said had underworld ties, was shot and killed early today. It was the fifth gangland-style slaying in the city in two weeks.

Police said Gennaro Ciprio, 31, had left his restaurant about 2:45 a.m. and was walking to his car when he was shot several times. Detectives found $1,300 in his wallet and a .38 caliber pistol which had not been fired.

Today's death followed the Friday slaying of Brooklyn mobster Joey, "Crazy Joe" Gallo who was shot three times while he was celebrating his 43rd birthday in a restaurant in Manhattan's Little Italy.

No Outside Support, Says Boswell

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bryant attorney Ted Boswell, who says he is receiving no financial support at all from outside the state, has called on his opponents in the Democratic senatorial race to reveal all campaign contributions and the names of the contributors.

Boswell said in a speech to state Young Democrats Saturday that it was a known fact that some large corporations and special interest groups were furnishing financial support to "certain candidates" whom he did not name.

Boswell said the voters had a right to know about campaign contributions.

"I intend to let my actions show the people of this state that I can be trusted with this high office," he said.

The other three Democratic candidates for the Senate—veteran incumbent John L. McClellan, Congressman David Pryor and Little Rock businessman Foster Johnson—also appeared before the Young Democrats.

McClellan, in a rousing speech, declared that Arkansas was "moving the ball" with his quarterbacking. He began his speech with remarks that seemed aimed chiefly at Boswell and Pryor.

"I do not come with a lot of promises to reform the world, or go off in some bold new direction," the senator said. "I'm not going to do that. No one else is either. I've been there. I know how it works."

"I have a record not of talk, but of work, a record of deeds," he said. "I'll stand on that record."

Pryor said that since the Cost of Living Council was established the federal government had "taken a chance" on big business, approving 2,515 price increases while rejecting only 115.

"It's time to take a chance on the wage earners, the forgotten people," Pryor said.

He said wage earners "quietly suffer" under oppressive government politics, particularly economic and social.

The congressman said he did not think an increase to $2 per hour in the minimum wage would prove inflationary.

Johnson, who ran unsuccessfully for the Senate twice before, said the nation needed to confront environmental problems and the prospect of a burgeoning solid waste dilemma by the year 2,000.

Johnson said that through the industrial revolution the nation had come to the "brink of environmental catastrophe" and that vast federal expenditures would be needed to solve the problems.

Pea Pickers Publishing

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Inmates at Cummins Prison Farm have resumed publishing an inmate paper.

The paper, formerly known as the Pea Pickers Picayune, will now be called the Cummins Journal.

The Picayune stopped publication more than a year ago. Inmates said the reason was that the former editor was deported.

The state Board of Correction told the penitentiary staff a few months ago to take steps to see that the paper was re-established.

Laurence Chester is the new editor of the paper.

Arnold Cites Independence

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Congressional candidate Richard S. Arnold of Texarkana says that voters in Arkansas' 4th District would vote for candidates they believe are "fiercely independent."

Arnold, among the four candidates for the 4th District position speaking to state Young Democrats Saturday, said the voters were "sick of politics as usual."

"They are fiercely independent and vote for candidates whom they believe share this attribute," he said.

Arnold, a lawyer, said he would campaign "not to special interests, the big people, but to the public at large."

Atty. Gen. Ray Thornton of Sheridan, who is one of the congressional hopefuls, said the people wanted a candidate who "talks with them in small groups, in the small communities" as he said he has been doing.

Thornton said his record as attorney general showed his concern for criminal law, efficiency and consumer protection.

Thornton said good government involved more than a willingness to "tell it like it is." He said Democrats must "see it like it is, tell it like it ought to be, and work to make what ought to be a reality."

Richard Mays of El Dorado, another attorney in the race, said the voters desired a candidate "responsive to their wants, feelings, thoughts and needs."

He said he had dealt with blacks, whites, labor and business executives in his law practice and had demonstrated he could communicate with all types of people.

Jack G. Coleman of McGehee said he wanted the support of Young Democrats because "young men and women...make things happen." He also said the electorate no longer could afford to put into office persons "who will endanger our freedoms."

Howard Cain, a candidate in the 3rd District for the position held by Republican Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, said Hammerschmidt could be soundly beaten in the November general election.

Special Squad Blamed

BELFAST (AP) — A "punishment squad" of the Irish Republican Army was blamed today for beating, painting and feathering a pregnant housewife and tying her to a lamppost while her three young children screamed in terror.

Police said six youths and two women carried out the Sunday night attack on Philomena McGuckin, who is five months pregnant.

Mrs. McGuckin, 24, a Roman Catholic, was dragged from her kitchen in Belfast despite the screams of her children aged 5, 3, and 8 months. The attackers beat her with hockey sticks, shaved her head, poured red paint and feathers over her and tied her to a lamppost.

She was treated at a nearby hospital for shock and multiple bruises but insisted on returning home to look after her children. Doctors said it was too early to tell whether she would lose her unborn baby.

Police who questioned Mrs. McGuckin about the motive for the attack said, "She was too frightened to tell us. She wouldn't say anything."

But neighbors said it had been carried out by an IRA punishment squad. They said the woman had been taking drugs for medical reasons. Taking drugs is an IRA "offense."

The IRA has a strong grip on the Catholic district where Mrs. McGuckin lives and often metes out its own punishment if its code is violated. The organization has admitted tarring and feathering 20 people in Belfast and Londonderry for alleged petty crimes, including girls who went out with British soldiers.

Quits Marianna School

MARIANNA, Ark. (AP) — After only a year, Dr. Henry C. Dial said he was quitting as the superintendent of the Marianna schools.

Dial said Sunday that he had submitted his resignation about a week ago.

"I've reached a point where I feel a new face will help the situation much better than I can," he said.

Black pupils have been boycotting Marianna schools since mid-January. A group of black pupils left the school when officials refused their request for an observance of Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday.

Dial said Sunday that attendance at one point was down to 1,500 to 1,600 out of a total enrollment of about 4,900, but that attendance was up to about 2,100 last week.

In a copyrighted article in the Arkansas Democrat Dial was quoted as saying, "I'm tired, I've been under a lot of duress."

The Democrat quoted Dial as saying that he came to Marianna feeling that integration would work and knowing that there were problems in Marianna.

"I thought everything had an answer," he said. "Maybe there isn't an answer—maybe there is just time."

Dial, 36, took the position at Marianna after receiving his doctorate in public school administration from the University of Arkansas. He previously was superintendent of Carlisle and Smackover schools.

Young Demos Name Leader

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ron Oliver of Little Rock was elected Sunday the state president of the Young Democrats during the business session of the YD convention.

Don Rhodes of Little Rock was elected first vice president, Mary Sigman of Hot Springs, second vice president; Alma Valentine of North Little Rock, secretary; Doug Rawn of Little Rock, treasurer, and Mary Ann Scoggins of Pine Bluff, national committee woman.

The child in the car was not hurt, the patrol said.
